About Me:

Programming was a hobby for me that quickly grew into a passion that I now practice everyday. I am self taught, learning a lot of what I know from different coding boot-camps and other online resources. I am a passionate learner who is always looking to better my skills and become a key part of any team.

Projects:

Fly Away

Designed and developed a modern airline home page using HTML,CSS and React. Using a user friendly UI to easily navigate and search for your flights to your desired travel destinations
